OVER THE WIRES.

THE KENTUCKY CONSTITUTION FOUND IN A SAFE.

Regulators of Kentucky---Lawlessness--Other Late and Important Items.

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 16.—Rumors in regard to the Governor and Council intending to count out the Republican majority in the Legislature is exciting general attention. Notices were filed with the government yesterday for hearings in disputed cases.

Franklin, Luscalo, Penobscot and Washington counties report that no hearings will be allowed in the disputed cases, but certificates will be issued as already determined. Carefully compiled lists shows the Republicans have eighty-nine members in the House and one vacancy by death, while the Democrats have sixty-one in the same branch. In the Senate the Republicans have nineteen; Democrats twelve.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 15.—A despatch from Padneah says: "Considerable damage to buildings etc., was done by the heavy rain and wind storm.

The constitution of Kentucky is now stated to be safely locked up in the State vaults.

The fire last night nearly destroyed Ferguson, Smith & Co.'s mill, together with nearly 20,000 bushels of wheat. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $9,000.

Special dispatch to the NEWS.

GREENSBORO, Nov. 15.—Subscription to the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad extension is carried by a large majority in Gilmer and Morehead townships. W. S. M.

Kentucky Lawlessness.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 15.—A special to the Enquirer states that Lewis Scoggs had been convicted of the murder of of a Mr. Waddell in Elliott county, Kentucky, and sentenced to eight years imprisonment. A new hearing and the case is to be appealed. The prisoner was removed from the county jail for fear the regulators would shorten the sentence.

In North Eastern Kentucky they have issued a proclamation fashioned after the Declaration of Independence. It recites that in view of the assassination, robbery and rapine which has lasted in that region for four years they have had to band together to protect themselves and the property of honorable people. They deny that they are a mob, but assert that they are an organized and disciplined set of men who mean business. They assure good citizens they have nothing to fear, and warn all barn burners and murderers to leave the country and threaten them with lynch law where the State law fails of its duty.

Condition of Cotton, Wheat, Corn and Tobacco.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The following is the condition of the cotton, wheat, tobacco and corn, as issued by the Department of Agriculture to-day:

Cotton—There was a decided increase in the condition of cotton during the month of October. Unfavorable weather was reported in Georgia and at Alabama. In all the other States it was favorable. The returns indicate a yield per acre of 176 pounds lint against 191 last year. This yield, estimating that they are planted at 2 per centum more than last year, would make a deficit in this year's crop of 290,000 bales of 450 pounds each. All south of the Atlantic States show some decline, Texas falls off 35 per cent. All the States bordering on the Mississippi river show decided gains.

Wheat—The wheat returns of November 1st, to this Department, show an increase in the wheat crop of twenty-six million bushels over that of last year. This great increase is the result of a very large yield in the States bordering on the Ohio river and in Missouri. The Northwestern States show little variation from the crop of last year. Kansas and California both decline in yield. Texas, of all the Southern States, is the only one that falls off in the yield this year.

Tobacco—The indicated product of tobacco for the entire country is 98 per cent. of that of last year. The gain has been the greatest in Tennessee, Connecticut and New York; loss the greatest in Ohio, Missouri, and West-Va., with a material decrease also in Maryland, Illinois and Indiana. In general, the quality is better than that of previous crops, though damaged to some extent from "house burn," it is reported, in Kentucky and Virginia, and from frost in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 15—It is stated that many millers have already lost heavily on contracts made when wheat was less than one dollar per bushel, and they see no profit in the immediate future. But little flour has been shipped from here within the last three weeks and large amounts are in store—more than enough to supply all the demand for some time. The millers are satisfied there must be a decline in wheat pretty soon. at all events they will not purchase until the prices fall or there is a margin on flour.

Billiard Match.

NEW YORK, November 15.—Eleventh game. Slossan 300; Gamier 68; wniner's average 23 1-16. Highest run, Slossan, 107.

Didn't Fire the House.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Cohen family, who were arrested on suspicion of setting fire to a tenament house, have been discharged on account of the lack of evidence of incendiarianism.

Another Storm.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 15.—At Paolio and Princetown, Indiana and South Bend, Ohio, considerable damage has been done by a storm.

Boiler Explosion.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 15.—The main boiler in the plate mill of the Cleveland Rolling Mill exploded last evening scattering fire in all directions. No one was killed. The fireman was slightly injured. The mill was damaged to the amount of $20,000.

Have a Mind to Close.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15.—There is a movement among the millers here to close their mills until the price of wheat declines. The reason asigned is flour is below the price at which it can be made without loss.

That Investigation Again.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—At the close of the testimony in the Champion disaster inquiry, the following letter was read:

EDWARD K. SHERWOOD, Esq., Secretary—Dear Sir: We have to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 12th instant, relating to the investigation "now pending before the British Naval Court at Philadelphia, to inquire into the particulars of the collision between the steamer Champion and the ship Lady Octavia, and your courteous invitation to have Captain Lockwood attend." In reply we beg to say that Captain Lockwood is now awaiting the United States local inspectors, to whom he has already submitted his report, and before whom he daily expects to be called. If, therefore, he and other parties interested in the vessel lost should desire to avail themselves of the opportunity your polite invitation offers, they could not, in any event, appear at an early date.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE W. QUINTARD,
For New York and Charleston, S. C.

The court has adjourned until Monday. The secretary, Mr. Sharswood, being instructed to see when the Captain of the Champion would attend, it is understood that there is no way to compel them to attend, as they are amenable to the local United States inspectors, where the steamship belongs, and this being New York city, their trial, if any, must take place there.

Memphis and the Yellow Fever.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 15.—A special from Memphis states that the reports of fever having again broken out there, are untrue. Only two new cases have broken out during the past ten days. No alarm is felt of the two cases mentioned. One of the parties caught the fever while visiting an old case, and the other from a house not disinfected.

Burned to Death.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 15.—While Edwards Grammar, aged eighty-five years, was asleep in his residence in Prince George county, Thursday night, the house was set on fire, and before he could escape was burned to death.

A New Appointment.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Colonel John Hay, formerly private Secretary to President Lincoln, has been appointed Assistant Secretary of State to succeed Hon. F. W. Seward resigned.

An Editor Burned Out.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. Marshal H. Mallory, of the Churchman, was burned out yesterday. He says his loss on the presses, type, machinery, engine, etc., between forty and fifty thousand dollars.

LATE NEWS NOTES.

Thomas Jackson, an Albany stone cutter, has just recovered $20,000 for injuries received in the Ashtabula disaster.

Associate Judge Joseph Light, of Lebanon county, died Thursday morning.

Ex-United States Senator McCreery, of Kentucky, was attacked with paralysis a few days ago.

Charles F. Conant, formerly Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who has been engaged for the past ten months in London in funding transactions for the United States, has returned to Washington, having finished his business there.

Senator Conkling is described as being "still fresh and beautiful," when he appeared before the Supreme Court in Washington on Wednesday. He seemed to be in perfect health. His hair was more unkempt than usual, but he wore his light blue necktie and argued his case with vigor and tact.

A WORD ABOUT GRANT.

His Proposed Visit to the South, and His Reception.

Corespondence of the News.

In your issue of the 11th instant, I see it stated as coming from the Baltimore Sun "that leading Democrats in North Carolina are said to have given the assurance that they will join in extending the hospitalities of the State to General Grant" in case he comes on a trip divested of any partizan features! With due deference to the opinion of these "leading Democrats," we desire to say that such is the condition of public sentiment in North Carolina now, and throughout the entire country, that General Grant can make no movement, even if he would, that does not practically mean partizan politics. His receptions North are gotten up and trumpeted to the four winds by the lead and file, nine-tenths of the Republican party, and that too, of the rabbid, red-string type. His political life was brought into existence by the throes of the late revolution, and has been reared upon the strongest partizan pabula. His official character, even when clothed in the habiliments of the most honored and sacred office within the gift of the people, was marked by favoritism of persons, parties and sections, to the utter exclusion of capacity, fair-mindedness and high statesmanship. He is crafty, grasping and ambitious. As a private citizen, there can be but little sympathy or spirit of affiliation between him and our people. When in power, and that too after he had said, "Let us have peace," he held the bayonet to our throats, and aided those who were using every power at their command to crush the very life out of us. As a patriot, he cares but little for the South. His prospective tour through the South, is not for the purpose of studying the genius of the people and their institutions that he may the more thoroughly satisfy himself of the policy that should govern him and his political associates. When he was President, and when the cases of an oppressed and rob people by carpet-bag rule, rose to heaven for vengeance, had a patriotic spirit moved him, our people would have welcomed him and been thrice glad to have shown him every hospitality which their circumstances would have allowed. He has just traveled around the world; been the honored guest of almost every conspicuous power, and is now sweeping through the North amid huzzas and the roaring of cannon. Like proud Haman, there is still of discontent in his breast. The Southern people have not yet risen to do him honor. The noblest belt of this great country—his country, of which he professes to be so pround—the land of chivalry and high-born patriotism; of brave men and pure women; a land where "isms" cannot live and the marriage vow is honored; this grand old land of revolutionary fame and historic renown that would not bow the knee to King George. At this land these people have not bowed down and cried, "Great is U. S. Grant." Mr. Editor, these "leading Democrats" may do as they like. We would advise no estacies; no "booms," simply a quiet hospitable reception. The people are entitled to a voice in this matter, and will insist on a hearing. Would that not only Grant, but Jim Blaine and Conkling and Sherman and all the fire-eating Republicans North, who are famishing to death for want of the truth of this grand people, would take extensive tours south and see and learn for themselves who we are and what we are. W.

Goldsboro Mail: Mr. Isaac Fachtler and Miss Isabella Kern were married on the 6th instant at 7 o'clock P. M., at the residence of Mrs. Lehman, of this place. Both young, intelligent and industrious, we can with the more pleasure offer our congratulations, and with greater confidence wish them much happiness through life.

METEORIC SHOWERS.

A BRILLIANT DISPLAY ON THANKSGIVING NIGHT.

Professor Proctor Lectures in Chickering Hall---Meteoric Shower on the Night of the 27th Inst.

New York Sun, 14th

The title of Professor Richard A. Proctor's second lecture in Chickering Hall last night was "The Immensity of Space."

* * * * *

"Biela touched the earth November 27. Look out for it in the opposite quarter." The astronomer looked in the direction indicated, and saw a patch of light, like a cloudlet of little stars, moving rapidly across the heavens. It sped on until it disappeared. It had come rushing out of the north and disappeared in the south. Prof. Proctor thinks that the great mass of the dissipated comet did not reach the earth, but it passed so close that the outlying parts of the cluster touched the earth. On next Thanksgiving night this swarm of flying meteors will again come flying out of the northern heavens, and Prof. Proctor prelicts that then there will be a brilliant display in the sky. It may not happen, he said, because perhaps the meteoric cluster may have been dissipated, but he felt pretty certain that there will be a display.

The lecturer advised astronomers to keep a lookout for about a week previous to the 27th inst. in that quarter of the heavens from which the meteors approach in order, if possible, to detect the cluster as it rushes end-on toward the earth.

STATE NEWS.

PITT

GREENVILLE, Nov. 13.—At Farmville yesterday, Sam Joyner, Esq., went to arrest a negro, recently returned from South Carolina, who had been stealing chickens, when the negro shot Mr. Joyner through the thigh, inflicting a painful wound. Mr. Joyner then knocked the negro down and tied him. Two gentlemen brought him to town and lodged him in the county jail, in which he stayed last night, if he had no friends outside. But any man who has a friend is a fool to remain in Pitt county jail at all. So, at this writing, I don't know whether the negro is still there or not; but hope for the best. Dr. O'Hagan went up yesterday evening to see Joyner, but I have not seen him since his return.

Many of the citizens of Greenville sat up last night to see the meteoric shower foretold in the Goldsboro Messenger. There is a "sold"-looking crowd this morning. B.

FORSYTHE.

WINSTON, November 15.—The weather is fair and as warm as mid summer. It is very dry and dusty, and the wind is brisk.

Business seems very brisk. Our little city seems wide awake indeed this week. Court opened last Monday with a full docket involving some very important cases. The trial of Burl Scales for shooting and killing Jim Stratton some months ago, an account of which was sent you at the time, begins to-day.

This is a lively week in religious matters, being the week of prayer for the Y. M. C. A. They are using it very profitably.

Nor has Hyman been forsaken during the stir. Mr. W. S. Martin was married to Miss Lizzie Leach last Wednesday night at the residence of her father Mr. David Leach. Rev. P. J. Carraway, officiating. We wish, them a long and happy life. We are informed that quite a number of couples have arranged to pay their vows at the shrine of this God soon, and that at least one every month will come off.

In our report of the marriage last week, you type made us commit some errors which for the sake of the ladies we must correct. We notice the omission of "we' " before saw, a comma should be instead of period after march, and a small "t" instead of capital before attendants, "with" should preceed beautiful, and "plum" should be in place of plain, and "conduced" instead of condensed.

Col. Gorrell, our Mayor, and late Chief Marshal of the states Fair, with Mr. M. W. Norfleet, proprietor of the Piedmont warehouse, attended the Richmond Fair, and received such courtesy and marked attention from the marshals of that Fair that we wish, through the NEWS, our leading daily, to return thanks, as a city, for the honors conferred upon our mayor and citizen, and we thing we may speak for the State, in acknowledging the honors conferred on our chief marshal. It will afford Winston and North Carolina a pleasure to reciprocate the favors.

All things seem to be favorable to the successful completion of the desired arrangements to have the desired rail-railroad from Madison via. Winston and Salem to Moorsville or Statesville.

The colored amateur minstrel troupe gave a concert in Tises Hall recently, which is highly spoken of.

A festival was also held there recently for the benefit of the Baptist church here. The members of this congregation deserve the highest honor for the energy displayed on the building of this beautiful church and parsonage, and the general outfit of all. With but a small band of brave men and enthusiastic ladies, they strove with an energy bordering on sublimity, and have been handsomely repaid. They have their church and parsonage all paid for, we think; have a large, devoted congregation; a fine, prospering Sabbath-school, and a most excellent pastor—Mr. Brown—well worthy the church and the congregation. He has been preaching one-half his time at Red Banks, but will hereafter devote his entire time to his church here.

Our young friend Mr. John Sheppard, who recently embarked in the matrimonial sea, captivating and capturing one of old Virginia's fairest daughters, has rented Lashe's Warehouse, and will run it under the new name of "Pilot." We trust he may receive the patronage he so richly merits.

Our postmaster is arranging to supply us with lock boxes—a want long felt.

Corn is rather scarce in our market at 50 cents per bushel, and wheat stands high up.

Many of our citizens sat up last night to witness the meteoric shower, predicted by Prof. Tise, but "nary" shower came. Drowsy faces and sour dispositions are the result.

The railroad meeting is now at work in Tise's hall, but we cannot give you a report by this mail.

Mail Irregularities.

Charlotte Democrat.

What can be the matter with the mails between here and Raleigh? Sometimes the Observer and NEWS reaches here eighteen hours old. but oftener they are 24 and 48 hours old, and some copies never come at all There is something wrong somewhere. If mail or route agents were required to give a bond of ten or twenty thousand dollars for the faithful performance of duty, only competent men would get in charge of mails on the railroad lines. In the absence of positive proof we make no charge against any particular mail agent, for we find them generally disposed to do right, but that there is negligence somewhere is certain. To be a good mail agent or postmaster requires the best intelligence and expertness.

A GAMIN'S HISTORY.

The Child of a Spanish Merchant and a German Opera Singer Becomes a Vagabond.

In the latter part of October a neglected gamin calling himself Alfred Martinez, who said his father was an actor at Hammer's German Theatre on North Third street fell into the hands of the Society to Protect Children from Cruelty. He had been arrested after stealing Mr. Hammer's gold watch and attempting to pawn it for ten cents. The boy told a strange story of neglect and of the street Arab life he had led. The society, as the best measure possible, sent him to the House of Refuge. Inquiries were instituted in the New York society, into some of the statements the boy had made. It was learned that the vagabond's father was a Spanish merchant who became enamored of a German operatic singer about twelve years ago and married her. The father never took much interest in the welfare of the lad, and after the time of the mothers decease, at the time when Alfred was three or four years old, abandoned him altogether to the care of th sister of the dead singer, who, also with the husband, were professional singers. They came to Philadelphia. Their youthful ward betrayed a roving disposition and was placed in the Protestant Orphan Asylum. From there he escaped and went to New York, where he took refuge at the home of Mrs. Stephani, florist, in East Thirty-fourth street, an acquaintance of the boy's foster parents. There they found him and brought him to this city, but his old instincts were too powerful and he indulged in a nomadic career at every opportunity. The opinion is that he is a "born tramp," to whom home restraint is irksome. No attempt has been made to hold the father accountable for this neglect.

BRUTALITY TO A CHILD.

Whipping Her Until Her Back Was Covered With Ulcers.

Special to Phiadelphia Times.

ERIE, Nov. 14.—James Brown, an employee of the Pittsburg Road, and wife were arrested this evening for inhuman conduct to an adopted girl eleven years of age. The child is in a dying condition, and when examined by physicians her whole body was discovered to be in a shocking state. There were running ulcers on her back and legs; there was hardly any flesh on her bones, and she was in a starving condition. The child was taken to the Home for the Friendless, where the Times representative saw and questioned her. She says they beat her with twigs and thurst her into the cellar all night, without light or covering. She will probably die. Her father is Professor Von Meyer, of Canada. Mr and Mrs. Brown were held in $1,000 bail.

SUNDAY READING.

Materialism and Crime:

The following quotation from a prominent Eastern daily, was incorporated in an able paper by the Rev, Willis Craig, D. D., of Keokuk, Iowa, read before the recent meeting of the Evangellical Alliance in St. Louis.

We believe it to be susceptible of demonstration, that the late extraordinary and deplorable increase of crime, an increase more palpable every day, crowding with its record the columns of the public prints, and sickening the soul with its endless detail and novelty of horror, is largely due to the growth of materialism, or what is termed infidelity, and that mainly in reaction from the skeptical drift of the times lies the path of wholesome reform.

The fruit of unbelief among the upper or wealthy classes is sensuality. Those classes get to worship instead of their Maker the pleasures of the moment. Among the poorer and less educated ranks of society, the cant and poison of living only for the day is even more directly disastrous. The rich can gratify their passions without, as a rule, and in the legal sense, coming in conflict with the rights of others. But the needy, unrestrained by any fear of future account, and thinking only to eat and drink, since tomorrow they die, drive straight on to crime. That this is no idle assertion can be abundantly proved.

A careful survey of the murders, suicides, and other great felonies committed in the chief cities of the United States during the last ten years, shows that a heavy fraction of the perpetrators were atheists or free thinkers. These unhappy persons, persuaded that life is the be-all and the end-all here, imagine that in their calculations they can jump the world to come. A collection of the letters and other papers left by criminals when anticipating death, shows a fearful number of instances, some of which many readers will recall, of absolute disbelief in the existence of a God, or in any reckoning for wrong done in this life, to be exacted in a future one.

General Hancock.

It having been asserted that General Hancock, who had charge of Mrs. Surratt before her execution, treated her with severity and refused to allow a clergyman of her church to see her in order to grant her absolution, the priest who attended her, Rev. J. A. Walter, of St. Patrick's Church, Washington, has made the following statement:

"Truth and justice compel me to deny the statement with reference to General Hancock's participation in the execution of Mrs. Surratt. I attended Mrs. Surratt on that occasion, and met with no interference on the part of General Hancock. General Hancock had great sympathy for this unfortunate lady, and waited until the last moment, hoping for a reprieve. I consider it an act of justice to General Hancock that this statement should be made."

Hendricks Calls Tilden a Fraud.

A gentleman now in this city, who last week talked freely with Governor Hendricks, of Indiana, says that the latter frankly indulged in the comment that Tilden was a trickster and fraud, and said a good many things equally as uncomplimentary. "Indeed," said the gentleman who had the conversation with him, "I was surprised that Governor Hendricks talked as plainly about Tilden as he did."

Disgusted.

The New York Herald says the Aldermen of that city are disgusted because of the fact that Mayor Cooper's latest nomination of a police commissioner is a successful business man who has never held office. It thinks his rejection is a foregone conclusion.

A PASTOR'S BRICK.

HOW A PROMINENT BAPTIST DIVINE BEGAN LIFE.

How He is Ending It by Becoming His Own Executor and Distributing His Effects.

Philadelphia Record.

There is one article in the study on the top floor of pastor E. L. Magoon's residence on Girard avenue, above 19th, which always attaacts the attention of the privileged visitor to that apartment because of the contrasts it presents to the many oil paintings, water colors, elegantly bound volumes and articles of virtu with which it is surrounded. This article is a brick with a corner lopped off, and is set in a plain, bronze frame, in shape something like a bread pan. Set in the whole in the top is a small glass jar filled with ink. There is nothing peculiar about the brick, except in appearance and color it does not compare very favorably with the average brick of latter day manufacture. A newspaper caller, moved thereto by a spirit ef inquisitiveness, was examining this unique inkstand the other day when the owner suddenly interrupted him with the announcement, "That is the first brick I laid. See," and lifting it from the frame he exposed to view an inscription to that effect on the one side and the date "June, 1826," on the other.

The Reporter was about to remark that he was not previously aware that bricklaying was in the catalogue of ordinary clerical duties, when the reverend gentleman again spoke. "I will tell you its history," he said. "My father was an architect. When I was seven years old he was taken ill, and after nine months suffering, he died. We were then living in West Windsor, Vermont. Our father's death left us poor, very poor, and I had to look out for myself. I chose the trade of bricklaying and served three years as an apprentice. Then I worked a year as a journeyman, at the expiration of which time I was the happy possessor of a trowel, one suit of clothes and $40 in cash. I commenced a ten years course of studies, going successfully through the New Harrington, (N. H.) and Waterville, (Me.) Colleges (Ben Butler being a classmate in the latter), and the Newton Theological Seminary. That brick I laid in a house in West Windsor, under the pinning of the mortar wall before the brick wall was commenced. This was in June, 1826. Eighteen years after I went there and was enabled to obtain it and have remained with me ever since. Here is a remeniscence of my school-boy days," and the speaker produced a bound volume of over a hundred pages of legal cap, every leaf closely filled with writing. "When I went first to school," he continued. "I couldn't afford copying books, so I had to write on paper. You will find there ecerts from the writings of over two hundred authors."

Dr. Magoon is now fast approaching his seventieth birthday, forty years of which he has spent in the pulpit. In this long period there have been very few Sabbaths in which he has not preached in his own or somebody else's pulpit. In Virginia he is as well known as in this city. more particularly on account of an episode which occurred over thirty years ago. Dr. Magoon was ordained in August, 1839, and at once took charge of a church in Richmond, which was then known as the Church of Slavery. In 1852-3, he paid a lengthened visit to Europe, and during his absence a dispute arose in the denomination over a proposal to send a slaveholder as a missionary to Burmah. The Board of Foreign Missions, which had its headquarters in Boston, opposed the proposal, and this caused a rupture between the Baptists North and South. On his return to America Dr. Magoon delivered an address before a religious conference in New York city, in which he gave expression to what were then considered some radical views concerning the relations of Christianity to slavery.

This address caused some commotion among the Southern Baptists, and induced the editor of their organ to declare himself in the following manner: "If these things (alluding to the discourse) are true, we must either get rid of slavery or of Magoon." The upshot of the matter was that the reverend gentleman resigned his charge and came North. But his memories still lingered with his former congregation, for on the night that General Grant entered Richmond he received an invitation by telegraph to resume his pastoral connections. He did not, however, accept the offer, although he went back and preached for a month free of charge. Since that time he has been pastor of churches in Cincinnati, Albany and New York, and his connection with the edifice at Broad and Brown, dates back nearly a dozen years.

Within the last few days Dr. Magoon has, to use his own phrase, "become his own executor" in the matter of disposing of a library of some 1,700 volumes. Early in the year he was bereaved in the loss of his wife, and in July this affliction was intensified by the death of his son, an only child, who on his death bed remarked: "Father, what are you going to do with your collections? As you must soon follow me, should you not be your own executor?" The old gentleman thought well of the suggestion, and has now put it into effect. To Rochester University he has given some six hundred volumes of English literature, including many illustrated, rare and valuable works. Among them is a complete collection of the writings of John Ruskin, with an autograph of the author, with whom Dr. Magoon has been in correspondence for twenty years. Turner is also represented largely in the collection, while it includes some seven hundred different delineations by Berket Foster.

The Newton Theological Seminary has received between five and six hundred works on theology, ethics and archaeology. But the most peculiar phase of this "self-executorship," considering that the executor is a prominent Baptist divine, was the gift to Cardinal McCloskey of some five hundred Catholic works, most of them in French, ranging from tiny asetic manuals, to huge folio monographs on dogma, architecture, sculpture, painting and mosaics, and ending with a magnificent missal, made in vellum, before printing was invented, and elegantly embelliahed. Dr. Magoon and Cardinal McClosky were neighbors in Albany very many years ago, and in his letter accepting the gift the Cardinal expresses a diplomatically-worded hope that the Catholic works have led the donor to the threshhold of the "true Church."

The Post Office War on Lotteries.

Upon the representation of numerous affidavits of special agents of the post office department Postmaster General Key has arrived at the conclusion that all lottery companies and lottery agents are doing "fraudulent business" within the purview of his statutory powers concerning "schemes to defraud the public." He has, therefore, commenced the issuance of special orders to postmasters at specified cities, directed by name against all persons known to be concerned in the lottery business, forbidding the postmaster to pay any postal money-order or to deliver any registered letter addressed to the persons thus named. The money-orders and registered letters are to be returned to the senders, and the letters are to be stamped with the word "fraudulant." In view also of the fact that the most of the persons engaged in selling lottery tickets are doing business under assumed names, the department has also issued instructions for a rigid enforcement of the existing regulations which require postmasters to send all ordinary matters addressed to names that are known to be fictitious to the dead letter office. The special issued are directed to the postmasters at New York city in regard to the following: "Willy Barrow, alias T. J. Cummerford, alias Thomas J. Hayess & Co."; "W. K. Porter and W. R. Creighton, alias B. B. Porter & Co.;" Theodore Zsoch;" B. Nathan & Co.;" B. Frank Moore alias M. A. Dauphin;" "Williamson & Co., alias Royal Havana Lottery Co;" and "B. Nathan & Co.;" all advertising New York city as their post office address. To the postmaster at Louisville, Ky., in regard to T. J. Cummdrford alias the Commonwealth Distribution Company, and to the postmaster at New Orleans in regard to M. A. Danphin.

ROBBERY AT A WEDDING.

Captain Mangin of Yonkers Reports a Daring Act in that Town.

Captain Mangin of the Yorkville police reported to Captain Keally to-day that on Tuesday last, while a wedding celebration was being held at the mansion of Robert J. Douglass, of the firm of Weeks, Douglas & Co., iron merchants of 4 State street, New York, at Yonkers, sneak thieves, evidently New York professionals, entered the house and stole a quantity of silverware, including twenty-seven silver teaspoons, butterknives and forks some jewelery and apparel. Captain Mangin gave a description of the property, and a good lookout for it will be kept in the pawnbrokers' shop.

Bayard at Petersburg.

A farmers' convention. in which the Southside counties will be fully represented, is to be held at Petersburg, Va., commencing on the 25th of the present month, for the "purpose of considering some important measures for the future interest" of that State. Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware, has been invited to deliver an address on Wednesday, the 26th, on "The Duties of a Citizen."

Senator Thurman.

It is announced that a movement is on foot to send Senator Thurman to the House of Representatives from the Columbus (Ohio) district, where he resides. That district is now Democratic, and though the new Republican Legislature will doubtless gerrymander the State, it is questionable if they can change its political character. Mr. Thurman was a member of the House thirty-four years ago.

Amusements for this Week.

The roller skating rink and Lincke's gymnasium will be open as usual.

We are to have three first class theatrical performances.

On Thursday night Mr. John A. Stevens will present for the first time in In Raleigh, the powerful drama "Unknown." "Mr. Stevens is a first class actor," says the press everywhere. Here is what the Chicago Tribune says of him:

"If there was any disappointment felt last night, in respect to Mr. Stevens, it was doubtless of the agreeable kind, which is felt when the object of it more than fulfills the expectations formed of him. There are strong passions and intense feeling to be portrayed, and here his ability and strength are very decided. There are love, jealousy, remorse and unspeakable joy. All these are effectively and vividly rendered, and the pathetic passages especially so. Mr. Stevens has a magnificent physique and a deep rich voice to correspond. Carlotta is a sprightly little lady, who perhaps does not impress you strongly at first, but she rapidly rises into favor with every scene, and when the play is over, everybody, willing or unwilling, has become an euthusiastic admirer of her."

On Friday night the Rentz—Santley Novelty Company appear at Tucker Hall, with a burlesque on Pinafore. It is said the burlesque surpasses the original play. The company is certainly a fine opera troupe, and everybody should witness the play, especially those who have seen the old Pinafore. Go; you'll enjoy it.

Here is what the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle says: "The Rentz—Santley Novelty Company were greeted by a large attendance at the Grand Opera House last evening. There were very few ladies present, but had the exact nature of the performance been known beforehand, this would probably have been different, as there was nothing in the entire lengthy programme which could be charged with impropriety. There were eleven ladies—six brunetts and five blonds—and their first appearance in the minstrel ring was a dazzling sight, for they were not only good looking, but attired in long trailing dresses of yellow, blue, green and other gaudy tinted silk. Contrasted with the burnt-cork artists, Lew Benedict and Charles Wilson, who were the end-men, their appearance was a novel one. The minstrel business was well done; the jokes cracked by the "niggahs" were laughable and brought down the house. This was especially true of Lew Benedict's atrocious collection of puns and his stump speech. This Courtney-Hanlan race came in for a full share of the mirth. The great hit of the evening was "Pinafore" as burlesqued by the company, the parts of the gallant sailors being taken by the females. The Sir Joseph Weisbeer of Charles Wilson was a stunning production, and produced roars of laughter, as did also the Dick Deadbeat of James Sanford. The singing was fully up to the standard, and all the parts represented were well sustained. The troupe appears for the last time tonight."

An Old Land-Mark Gone.

As announced some time since in the NEWS, the water-power at the Oil Mills on Neuse river, ten miles north of this city, was sold, with right to remove dam. On yesterday some three hundred citizens met to remove the dam. The work was not fully accomplished, but the water was let off. A grand barbecue and dinner was given by the neighbors, which was much enjoyed.

In 1828 Burwell Perry and Berry King had the mill and dam built; it has thus been standing for over a half century, and has during that time been the property of several persons. The Cotton Seed Oil Mill was the only one north of Georgia. The machinery will be sold, to be run by steam at some point near the railroad.

Why take those immense doses of nauseating mixtures sold as "Cough Syrups" when a few small doses of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure your cold.

A LARGE SMALL MAN.

NAPOLEON ON THE BELLERO. PHON AS A PRISONER.

A Marine Tells a Story About Napoleon---Didn't Think He was a Very Small Man.

Detroit Free Press.

In Fulton county, Ga., there is now living an old man who enjoys the distinction of having guarded the great Napoleon during his short captivity on the Bellerophon, previous to his departure for St. Helena. Mr. Gregg, for that is the name of the old man, is now eighty-five years of age, but he is still in the enjoyment of good health, and his memory seems to be unimpaired. In the course of a conversation with the veteran some time ago, a few facts were elicited which will doubtless be of interest to the many admirers of the French Emperor.

Gregg, according to his statement, was one of the British marines on the Belleropho. After the Emperor Napoleon, or General Bonaparte, as he was studiously called by the officers of the vessel, came on board and surrendered himself to Captain Maitland, claiming the hospitality of England, he was assigned a cabin and one of the marines was always on duty at the door. This post fell to Gregg's lot a number of times, and he soon began to feel a friendly interest in the illustrious prisoner.

"How did Bonaparte look and act?" I asked.

"He was the grandest looking man I ever saw," replied Gregg. "He had a splendid head, dark brown hair and a face like marble. His eyes were light blue, and when in high spirits his smile was the sweetest imaginable."

"He was cheerful at all times, was he?"

"Oh, yes; some times he would speak to me and to the common sailors as pleasantly as you please. He would utter a few words of English, and then ask if what he said was correct, and when we would point out his mistakes as well as we could, he would laugh like a boy; and then he would turn the tables by picking flaws in our French. Oh, he was a rare one, sir."

"Always in good humor, then?"

"Well, no, sir. Sometimes he was very blue, and then again he would get mad, and, Lord, sir, how he would swear."

"Swear? The great Napoleon swear?"

"Yes, sir, that he did. He would swear by the hour at anybody or anything that crossed his path."

"How did he pass his time?" I queried.

"He read some, and talked with the officers a good deal, and then he was very fond of pacing the deck. Sometimes he would shut himself up in his cabin all day, but generally he was walking about, noticing everything. Nothing seemed to escape him, and he was in the main very willing to talk to anybody that came along. Sometimes he was very unassuming, and then again, considering his position as a prisoner, and all that, it did look as if he was a little too haughty."

"Did he ever appear at all cowed?"

"Cowed! Not a bit of it! Why, sir, he walked the deck as if he owned the vessel and everybody on it. He would get blue and mad, as I said before, but he always carried himself grandly, and everybody, from the Captain down, showed him the greatest possible respect. In fact, we all took a liking to [illegible] and that's the truth about it."

"What was Napoleon's height near as you could guess?"

"Well," replied old Gregg, meditatively "they tell me that he was a little man, but I did not think so when I saw him. It was because I was a raw youth, I suppose, and the sight of the greatest man in the world's history dazzled me. But, then his manner was always so dignified and impressive that we never thought of his small stature."

"What was the opinion of those on the Bellerophon in reference to the Emperor't future?"

"Why, sir, we all thought that he would be received as England's guest, and by some provision in the treaty be allowed a pension, on condition of not again taking up arms. We had no idea of anything else, and, sir, our men shed tears of humiliation when they learned that Bonaparte was not to be permitted to land on English soil—they did, sir, and our officers, too, were a good deal ruffled—and they felt that the British government was doing something that was mean, petty, and malicious."

The National Hotel.

Mr. S. B. Pettit, late of Exchange and Ballard House, Richmond, and Jarratt's hotel, Petersburg, has been engaged by Messrs. Street, and takes charge of the culinary department of the National Hotel. Mr. Pettit has had large experience as a caterer in the best hotels and some of the leading springs of Virginia, and is known to the North Carolina traveling public through his former connection with the Granger's Hotel and the old Griswold House at Goldsboro. He is one of the best hotel men in the State, and is a decided acquisition to the National. In this connection, we may also mention that Messrs. Street & Son have closed a contract with Messrs. Ellington, Royster & Co. for remodeling and improving the internal arrangement of the National, and they go to work immediately on the construction of a ladies' entrance to reception room and stairway on Halifax street.

Neuralgine.

This is not a KING CURE-ALL. But is only good for Neuralgia and Headache. For these troubles it is the only specific known. Sold by all the leading druggists. tf.

Each of Warner's Safe Remedies—the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, Safe Pills, Safe Nervine, and Safe Bitters, is asserted to be the best of its class, and the intention is to keep it so. If any medical expert can add an ingredient which will improve any one of them, he will be paid a high price for the improvement.

Got Out Doors.

The close confinement of all factory work, gives the operators pallid faces, poor appetite, languid, miserable feelings, poor blood, inactive liver, kidney and urinary troubles, and all the physicians and medicines in the world cannot help them unless they get out of doors or use Hop Bitters, the purest and best remedy, especially for such cases, having abundance of health, sunshine and rosy cheeks in them. They cost but a trifle. See another column.

The Electric Light.

If Professor Edison's Electric light is going to supersede the use of gas, we are glad of it. Gas is the bane of our national existence. When hoarse with too much speaking take Hall's Balsam. It is especially adapted to congressmen, ministers and the rest of mankind.

DAILY NEWS

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1879.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THE American Union Telegraph Company has completed its connections between New York and Philadelphia, notwithstanding desperate opposition. North and South of Rahway, New Jersey, on Thursday night its poles were cut down, and the wire hauled away and secreted. The perpetrators of this outrage will probably be brought to justice. During the present week it is probable the wires will be laid through Washington, and connections established North, South and West.

AFTER Senator Conkling gets ex-Naval Officer Cornell elected to the chairmanship of the National Republican Committee, he will then begin to make the administration solid in support of ex-Collector Arthur for United States Senator. This is probably all that will be required of the present administration, unless the favorite son of New York should conclude to run himself for the Presidency; in that event a great deal of enterprising whooping up will be called for, and as Hayes no longer spells reform with a big R, he would be equal to all demands.

GENERAL FRANCIS A. WALKER is getting on finely with his arrangements for taking the next census, and there seems good reason for his confidence that it will prove a more valuable collection of statistics than was ever before gathered. The most important reform proposed is the completion of the work within the single month of June, 1880, while in the large cities it is hoped to do the business up within a fortnight. This will of itself eliminate a great mass of blunders that were unavoidable under the old system, which kept the work dragging along nearly half a year.

THE Bayard "boom" is stimulated by the result of the New York election. He is now the most prominent of all the Democratic candidates, and it cannot be denied that the present prospect of his nomination is causing the Republicans great uneasiness. As a Kentucky Democratic paper says, "they know that his personal and political life is without stain, that he is a statesman of a high order of ability, that he enjoys the confidence of the people of all parties, and that as the nominee of the Democratic party he would sweep the country. As the candidate against Grant he would get the support of the entire independent element of the country, and a large number of the conservative members of the Republican party. These considerations are enough to make them dread the probability of his nomination.

SENATOR CHANDLER'S SUCCESSOR

Mr. Beaman is a native of Vermont and was born in 1814. He studied and practiced law and was judge of a probate court in Vermont for four years. He was a presidential elector in 1856. He was elected as a Representative from Michigan to the Thirty-seventh Congress and subsequently was elected to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses.

NORTH CAROLINA.

[illegible] Extracts From the State Press.

Durham Recorder: Mr. John King, of Raleigh, largely connected with the construction of the New Post Office building at Raleigh, favored us with a call on Friday. Mr. King has a sort of general supervision of the new building now being constructed here by W. T. Blackwell & Co., and is free to say that the material used is so nearly up to the celebrated Nova Scotia stone as to leave small margin for exception, and we will stake our reputation on the character of the work done.

Mr. King agrees with us that there is a large opening here for the use of the splendid stone of various tints now being brought to light within our corporate limits, and which may well attract the attention of builders everywhere.

Mr. T. B. Ryan, a gentleman from New York, will, during the present month, begin the publication in Hillsboro, of a paper to be called the Southern Mail. It is to be Democratic in politics; but its great aim will be the attraction to this section of the stream of immigration which may be supposed to find as favorable a focus in North Carolina and especially in Orange county, as elsewhere. We wish Mr. Ryan success.

Oxford Torchlight: An unusual number of marriage licenses have been issued during the past week. Averaging nearly three a day.

It is said that a good many revenue cases will come before the U. S Circuit Court which convenes at Raleigh on the last Monday in this month, from this county.

Mr J. W. Thompson, Secretary of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company, gives notice that a dividend of 3 per cent. on the capital stock of that company has been declared, payable on and after the 23d inst.

Lumberton Robesonian: A youth of some fourteen years of age, son of E. T. Britt, living about six miles from here, met with a serious accident on last Tuesday. He fell from the cart on a three prong rake, one of which penetrated the left kidney. The prong of the rake was eight inches long, and three quarters of an inch wide at the point. There is no question, says Dr. Norment, the attending physician, of the prong entering the kidney, as he passed quantities of bloody urine by the bladder. The boy is making a rapid recovery and is able to be up.

Warren News: The Warrenton Amateur Dramatic Club will give an entertainment on the evening of Friday, 21st November.

From Mr. H. H. Harrison, who keeps a rain guage, we learn that the rain fall from January 1st to November 1st, 1879, was 25 inches. Last year, for the whole year, the fall was more than 40 inches.

Mr. Bayard and the Presidency.

From an interview in N. Y. World.

"Senator, suppose you were called upon to permit the use of your name as a candidate before the next National Convention, what should you say?" "What I said when the question was put to me previous to the last convention. I said then to my friends: 'It is all important to carry New York in this campaign. If you believe that I can carry the State of New York more certainly than any other who may be named, you may use my name, of course, but it is your duty to go for the man who is, in your judgment, strongest in that State.' "That," added the Senator, "is my position to-day. The convention of 1876 chose Mr. Tilden, and Mr. Tilden, despite all the prejudices against him, did carry the State of New York and was elected President of the United States. At the next convention, if my friends should think that with me they are more likely to achieve success than with any other man, I ought not to refuse, and will not refuse, to be a candidate. I have never sought office and never shall; neither have I affected to decline office. I have never spent any money to obtain office. I never shall. I think I may say without vanity that I have the confidence of my own people, Republicans as well as Democrats. I know that men of my own party from whom I have differed in view have given me credit for acting according to my honest conviction of what was right, with no bias in favor of any section. I have tried to take the broad ground that the good of the whole country must be studied, and not the interest of any particular locality."

A New Presidential Ticket.

Lumberton Robesonian.

While in the Star office last Friday, we noticed the picture of a lady hanging against the wall, and underneath in large letters, Victoria C. Woodhull, candidate for President of the United States. Upon inquiring of Mr. Kingsbury, (Mr. Bernard not being present,) if that name was hoisted after he heard from New York, he explained that that picture had been received through the mail a few days before, unaccompanied by any note or explanation. He said it was lithographed in London, and that the notorious Victoria C. Wood*hull* was now in Europe. He explained that the picture was stuck up by the book-keeper, Mr. Cornly. We suggested to the latter that he would get a picture of Rhody Lowry, then in the city, for Vice-President, so that instead of the battle-cry being anybody to beat Grant, it would be Rhody "on to Victory!"

Bayard's Rebuke to Intriguers.

North American, Rep,

Senator Bayard will increase the esteem in which he is generally held by his rebuke to the political intriguers who who wanted his name to conjure with. The Presidential boom business is altogether overdone. All this pipe-laying and wire-pulling is sadly out of keeping with the dignity and responsibilities of the Presidency, and the statesmen who are on the anxious bench would further their own interests by confining themselves to a masterly inactivity. The scramble that goes on is neither pleasing nor profitable.

The Virginia Legislature.

The Richmond Dispatch says the Legislature of Virginia will consist of the following: Conservative debt payers, 42; Conservative readjusters, 40; Republicans, 47; Portsmouth tie between Conservative debtpayer and Conservative readjuster, 1—1000. Senate, Conservative debtpayers, 14; Conservative readjusters 16; independent debtpayers, 1; Republicans 8—40. If this classification is correct the readjusters and debtpayers each have 57 members in both houses, with the tie in Portsmouth to be decided by a draw. This seems to place the balance of power in the hands of the 25 Republicans.

Congressman Voorhis' Financial Strait.

New York Star.

President Hardenbergh of the Hudson county National Bank, assignee of Congressman Charles B. Voorhis, said yesterday that Mr. Vooorhis' liabilities would probably amount to more than $300,000. Mr. Hardenbergh is drawing up a statement of the liabilities and assetts. There will be little or no equity in Mr. Voorhis' property and it is supposed that none of the mortages can be covered. Mr. Hardenbergh is of the opinion that Mr. Voorhis' business troubles and complications can be traced to injudicious investments in water works, stocks and general property, which have proved unproductive.

The World's Fair in 1883.

New York Star, 14th.

The Citizens' Committee on the World's Fair to be held here in 1883, met last night at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Henry G. Stebbins presiding. Samuel A. Harris, Chairman of the Committee on Sites, reported that there can be no final [illegible] tion for the fair until after proper legislation is secured, and it must then be done by duly appointed Commissioners. The three sites most prominently before the committee are Manhattan Square, the Washington Heights site, and the East Side Sands, Brooklyn, adjoining Prospect Park. This latter was the only site offered free of expense, with a contribution from the city of $300,000 in cash. Morningside and Riverside Parks had also been highly recommended. It was resolved that an executive committee of fifteen should be appointed. It was resolved to hold a public meeting in the Cooper Institute next month to advocate the holding of the fair.

Grant and the Newsboys.

Rochester Advertiser.

One of those small boys who aid to make life a burden to the San Francisco citizen by forcing advertising bills on him in the streets way annoying people on Market street in that way the other morning when Grant and a friend came out of the Palace doorway, bound for a promenade. The gamin pestered the twain to accept one of his handbills, and, on its being several times declined, he suddenly thrust one inside the General's vest and rushed off. An indignant spectator stopped the youth and said:

"What do you mean by such impudence, young rascal? Don't you know that's General Grant?"

"Oh! it is, is it?" was the composed reply, "Well, all I've got to say is, that he puts on a blasted sight of frills for a guest."

President Thomas Scott.

President Thomas Scott, of tho Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in a talk with a newspaper man at Louisville, Ky., last Saturday, said that he regarded the revival in railroad business as resting on a substantial and firm foundation, and one of the prime causes of it was the resumption of specie payments. He thinks that the Democrats have only one man who can carry New York, and he is Tilden. The Texas Pacific railroad he says, will now be pushed forward without Federal aid.

An Ex-Convict's Awful Crime.

The blacksmith shop of Wilson & Doughterty was burned at Frankfort, Ky., and the body of a child of M. A. Jones was found in the ruins. It is thought the body of Hezekiah Gardiner, who disappeared last Saturday is also in the ruins. It is thought Wilson, who is an ex-convict, murdered the child and fired the place. The Governor has been asked to call out the militia to prevent lynching.

Tilden's Income Tax.

The appeal taken by the defendant from the appeal recently made by Judge Blackford in the United States Circuit Court in the suit of the United States against Samuel J Tilden has been perfected, and United States Commissioner Shields is now engaged in preparing the record of the case for transmission to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Some Little Things of Value.

If your coal fire is low, thrown on a table-spoonful salt, and it will help it very much. A little ginger and saumeat improves the flavor. In iceing cakes, dip the knife in cold water. In boiling for meat soup, use cold water to extract the juices. If the meat is wanted for itself alone, plunge it into boiling water at once. You can get a bottle or barrel of oil off any carpet or woolen stuff by appyling buckwheat plentifully. Never put water to such a grease spot, or liquid of any kind. Broil steak without salting. Salt draws the juices in cooking, it is desirable to keep these if possible. Cook over a hot fire turning frequently, searing both sides. Place on a platter, salt and peper, to taste. Beef having a tendency to be tough, can be made very pallitable by stewing gently for two hours with salt and pepper, taking out about a pint of the liquor when half done, and letting the rest boil into the meat. Brown the meat in the pot. After taking up, make a gravy of the pint of liquor saved. A small piece of charcoal in the pot with boiling cabbage removes the smell. Clean oil cloths with milk and water; a brush and soap will ruin them. Tumblers that have milk in them should never be put in hot water. A spoonful of stewed tomatoes in the gaavy of either roasted or fried meats is an improvement. The skin of a boiled egg is the most efficacious remedy that can be applied to a boil. Peel it carefully, wet an apply to the part affected. It will draw out the matter and relieve the soreness in a few hours.

Elevated Railroad Travel.

Five million passengers were carried by the elevated railroads in New York in October, the excess of receipts over expenditures being about one and a-half times as much as the expenditures themselves.

What They Say.

Rev. J. E. Rankin, D. D., of Washington, D. C., certifies of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure: "I do not doubt that it has great virtue." Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D., Secretary of Howard University, certifies that for Bright's disease "no other remedy can be held for one moment in comparison with this." E. W. Neff, of Detroit, Mich., certifies that it completely cured him of a very serious chronic liver complaint. J. H. Sherlock, of Rochester, N. Y., certifies that it cured him of Bright's disease of several years' standing, and that he believes it to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. These are samples of hundreds of other testimonials.

VEGETINE

Behold Me a Well Woman.

CANCER.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 26, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON.

DEAR SIR:—I have for years been a sufferer from a dreadful CANCER in my side which caused me untold agony, and as I am a widow with a family depencent upon my exertions for a support, my pain of body was only equalled by my pain of mind, at seeing my children want for bread. I was presented by a kind friend in Cincinnati with half a dozen bottles of Vegetine, and although one bottle is still untouched, behold me a well woman, completely restored in body and mind, and able to perform my accustomed duties. Long may you live! and may the history of my wonderful cure lead other like sufferers to purchase your valuable medicine, if it is with the last cent they possess.

Yours gratefully,
MRS. FULLER SUTT.

I write this to certify that I have known Mrs. Fuller Sutt from childhood, and have seen the hours of agony, that her patient womanhood has been called upon to endure. She has suffered untold agonies and now sits beside me in perfect health with her child upon her knee. The prayers of this grateful woman will ever be yours, my noble sir, and we add our testimony to the thousands that favor the greatest of all modern discoveries, "Vegetine."

Yours respectfully,

GOODMAN, MISS., May 6, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I have been suffering for 25 years with the Piles and found but little relief from any medicine that I have taken for many years past. Last winter I suffered considerably worse than ever before, also in connection with Rheumatism I was confined to my bed for several weeks. Having procured a bottle of Vegetine I took it with good effect. I continued the use, and after taking four or five bottles, find myself comparatively cured. I can cheerfully recommend it for the benefits that I have received from it.

Yours respectfully,
J. W. TAGGART.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I take great pleasure in recommending your Vegetine. I have been suffering for a long time with the Lung Disease; trying every kind of medicine that I could get, but none seemed to do me any good, until I tried your great Vegetine remedy. I had used it only a short time before I could discover a very great change in my health for the better. I don't consider that your medicine has its equal, for the diseases which you propose to cure, especially the disease that I have been afflicted with

THE GENUINE

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

Cuticura

From the Hon. Wm. Taylor, State Senator of Massachusetts.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen,—To say that I am grateful, is only a poor expression of my feelings, but it is the best word I can use, for I feel it in every sense of the word. I have been a great sufferer with skin diseases for the last twelve (12) years. My head and face being covered with sores, I could not rest with the burning heat and itching of the parts affected, and was confined to my house for weeks at a time. My disease has been called Eczema, of a most aggravated type, by many physicians, but I doubt if ever fully understood by any of them. It was more like a combination of several skin humors. I have spent much money seeking a cure, and in 1867 I went to Europe, and consulted some of the best physicians in London. I received temporary relief only, for in the spring it would break out again as bad as ever. When I came back to Boston, I was told by many friends that Dr. ——— (whose reputation for the cure of those diseases was of the highest order) could cure me. I waited on the doctor; he prescribed for me. I followed his advice for six months, and I can safely say, without any improvement. I tried other physicians and among them Dr. ———, of East Boston, and Dr. ———, of city proper, but all to no purpose. They did me no good; their remedies were so ineffectual that at no time did I feel that a cure would result from them.

I have swallowed five hundred arsenic pills, 5.20 grain, and taken bottle after bottle of internal remedies, besides all the external applications I have used, but the effect was the same. I became satisfied that I could not be cured, but might be kept from getting worse.

Now, about three months ago, Mr. Meehan, a gentleman well known to Boston people, called my attention to your Cuticura, and promised wonderful results if I would only make a trial. He told me of his own experience with it, and so persevered on me that I went with him to a drug store and bought two large boxes of Cuticura, and some Cuticura Soap, and commenced to use it according to the directions. There was so much humor lodged within the skin, that as soon as I commenced the use of Cuticura it came to the surface and festered, until vast quantities had come out and greatly intensified my sufferings for about two weeks. But I did not mind this, as I felt that I was going to get rid of the humor when I saw it coming to the surface in such large quantities. After the first two or three weeks' use of this remedy, I was greatly encouraged by a gradual lessening of the inflammation of a number of painful sores. I carefully, faithfully, and cheerfully followed the directions to the letter, feeling each week nearer a cure, until at the present moment, after three months' use of Cuticura, and twelve years of as constant suffering as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record. I have been so elated with my success that I have stopped men on the street who were afflicted, and told them to get the Cuticura and it would cure them. This is why I am so grateful to you, for I believe it to be the best and greatest discovery of the age, and that it will cure all who are suffering with these diseases. I may add that I took no internal medicine but the Cuticura Resolvent.

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——So hot!

——Oh. that dust!

——Revenue receipts $1.096.44.

——Rev. N. H. D. Wilson is in the city.

——Major Russ is reported as being no better.

——General Joseph E. Johnston was in the city yesterday.

——Wanted—an insurance company to insure our eyes against being put out by the Fayetteville street dust.

——Meteoric shower on the night of the 27th inst. But we don't think there will be many who will set up very late to witness it this time.

——Captain Joseph J. Sewell, of Marion, Alabama, died on the 5th of October. He was a near relative of the Sewells of this county, and was born in this city

——The Catholic church edifice is soon to be built. Those who desire to contract for the building of the same can see plans of building etc., at the office of Justice M. B. Barbee in the old Sentinel building.

——The funeral of Alice, eldest daughter of William and Mary Woollcott aged twelve years and six months, will take place from the church of the Good Shepherd this (Sunday) afternoon, at four o'clock, P. M.

——Hiram Lodge No. 40, A. F. & A. M., will hold its regular communication to-morrow night, the 17th inst. Election of officers and other important business is to be transacted. Every member is earnestly requested to be present.

——Justice Barbee had Moses and Allen Humphreys and Allen Salter before him yesterday, charged with conveying a mortgaged bond. They were put under a bond of $50 each for their appearance before the same justice on on the 17th inst.

——The reporter was last evening shown the medal given by "mine host" of the Yarborough, the genial Dr. Blacknall, to the colored people's Fair. It is a silver dollar, with a ten dollar piece inlaid on one side. A pretty thing indeed.

——Capt. White, Register of Deeds of Wake, paid to the sheriff on yesterday, $375.73, State tax on marriage licenses issued for one year. At the same time he paid to the county Treasurer $60.-33, county tax on the same luxury since March 24th.

——We are authorized to notify all parties that information in regard to the races at the colored State Fair on Wednesday and Thursday to apply to Tim Lee, who will also receive entries for said races. Entries must be made by 5 o'clock P. M., the day preceding the races.

——The Philadelphia Times says of "Unknown":

"The play was elegantly produced, while the house was filled with one of the largest audiences of the season, and one so enthusiastically appreciative that Mr. Stephens was called before the curtain at the close of every act."

——Mr. F. W. Rogers, of the Bliss Brothers have returned with their show (including Punch and Judy) and and will remain a week or more. They will be at the colored people's Fair during the day and from 6 to 10 at night will be at their old show room at the Beckwith House. Go and see them.

——Alice, little daughter of Wm. Woollcott, Esq., one of our popular merchants, died yesterday afternoon. The afflicted parents had no reason to expect their childs death as she seemed to be improving, and did not appear to be very ill anyway. Her funeral will be preached at four o'clock this afternoon at the church of the Good Shepherd.

——The colored people's Fair begins to-morrow. It is expected to be a grand success. Over two hundred entries have been made and more are expected to-morrow. Our white citizens have properly given them encouragement and the NEWS will always second any effort on the part of the colored people to advance their moral or social condition. We think the time has about arrived when these people are awakening to the fact that to be political tools is not the only end God created them for.

——During the last week in this month the Catholics of this city, as before stated, will hold one of the most attractive Fairs ever offered for the amusement of the public. In speaking of its prospective enjoyments, the ulterior object should not be lost sight of—the adornment of one of the city's most prominent thoroughfares by an elegant church building. The programme is filled to repletion with novel and interesting features—altogether too numerous to enumerate within the limits of this brief local. Those who come merely to look at the array of beauties which will be presented may be assured of receiving as hearty a welcome as those who come to aid the laudable work with their money.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anaemia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F. BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.

VEST POCKET CURE
25 DYSPEPSIA 25
CLERGY & DOCTORS
TESTE.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney. LL. D.,
Col. Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient without nausea.

Rev. B F. Woodward P. E., Na. Conf. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am in debted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our 'National Disease.' The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.
